BETWEEN WORLDS SCHOOL

WALKING WITH WOLVES

Level II | Immersive Shamanic Training

Walking the Spiral — Deepening the Healing Path

Five days · Four nights · Dates and location to be announced

An immersive exploration of healing practice, ancestral relationships, ceremony and responsible service.

An Invitation to Walk the Spiral

There comes a time along the path when the foundations we have gathered begin to deepen into something more. We return to our spiritual relationships, our practice and our community to explore the responsibilities of healing work with greater care, discernment and humility.

Through five days of guided learning, ceremony and supported practice, we deepen our capacity to listen, witness and work responsibly with others. The spiral invites us to return to familiar teachings with new understanding, carrying what we learn into our communities.

The Three Stars of Immersive Training

Healing Practice & Discernment

Extraction theory, spiritual cleansing, supervised sessions, consent, boundaries and appropriate referrals.

Ancestors, Passage & the Living Land

Ancestral relationships, introductory psychopomp principles, elemental relationships, reciprocity and land-based ceremony.

Community, Ceremony & Integration

Working in triads, planning group ceremony, reflective casework and continued practice beyond the retreat.

Immersive Teachings

Clearing & Healing

Extraction within the school's spiritual framework; preparation, demonstration, aftercare and supervised practitioner, recipient and witness roles.

Ancestors & Passage

Respectful ancestral reflection, grief sensitivity, introductory psychopomp concepts and the ethical limits of spiritual practice.

The Living Land

Listening to place, permissions and reciprocity; land and group healing, distance-work consent and sustainable sacred making.

The Practitioner in Community

Confidentiality, discernment, case reflection, accountability, individual scope and supported ceremonial facilitation.

The Five-Day Journey

Day One — Returning to the Circle

Reunion and intentions; circle agreements, cultural respect and consent. Review Level I practice, helping spirits, grounding and discernment. Instructor demonstration of a complete session and triad agreements. Learning record: self-assessment, intention, consent scenario and journal entry.

Day Two — Clearing and Healing

Extraction theory, preparation and spiritual cleansing; demonstrations, boundaries and aftercare. Supervised triads rotate practitioner, recipient and witness roles. Learning record: practice record, witness feedback and referral/stop scenario.

Day Three — Ancestors and Passage

Ancestral relationships, inherited stories and grief sensitivity; introductory psychopomp principles and ethical limits. Guided practice, case discussion and optional reflective ceremony. Learning record: ancestral reflection, ethics reflection and case note.

The Five-Day Journey · Continued

Day Four — The Living Land

Elemental relationships, listening to place, reciprocity and permissions; land/group healing and distance-work consent. Sustainable sacred making and a group-led ceremony with instructor support. Learning record: ceremony plan, land reflection and consent template.

Day Five — Carrying the Practice

Supervised integrative practice, structured feedback, case reflection, personal scope and Level III readiness. Integration commitments and closing ceremony. Learning record: final practicum rubric and 30/60/90-day integration plan.

The Generations Yet to Come

Honouring Those Who Walk Before Us and Those Who Will Follow

As we deepen our healing practices, we consider the generations who came before us and those who have yet to arrive. What wisdom have we inherited? What patterns are we ready to transform? What relationships with the land, our ancestors and one another do we wish to nurture for the children of tomorrow?

Through reflection, ceremony and shared conversation, we explore how our choices today may contribute to a more compassionate, connected world for future generations. We learn to become thoughtful caretakers of what we leave behind.

Learning, Practice & Certification

Students complete supported practice, reflective assignments and instructor-reviewed learning records. A Level II certificate is awarded upon demonstration of the agreed competencies; attendance alone does not guarantee certification. Final requirements and readiness for Level III will be confirmed before enrollment.

Learning continues through personal practice and access to monthly Between Worlds community calls, drawing on the original year-long Walking with Wolves program and online teachings from previous years. Specific access terms will be confirmed during enrollment.

Our Teaching Circle

Additional teaching circle members to be announced.

Training Investment

ENROLLMENT	TUITION (CAD)
Early enrollment Deadline to be announced	$1,250
Regular enrollment After early enrollment deadline	$1,450

All-inclusive residential tuition covers five days of instruction, four nights of accommodation, meals, refreshments, teaching materials, ceremonial supplies, guided journeys, supervised practice and guidance from the teaching circle.

Payment arrangements may be made in one, two or three installments following the introductory conversation. Prices are proposed; final deadlines and payment terms will be confirmed before registration opens.

Location, Accommodation & Travel

The retreat community, venue and dates will be announced. The program is designed as a residential gathering, with time together for learning, meals, ceremony and integration. Room arrangements, dietary and accessibility needs will be discussed individually.

Airport Transportation

We are happy to help coordinate rides from the nearest major airport to the retreat centre, including shared rides and carpooling when possible. Availability and any transportation costs will be confirmed in advance; transport is not included in tuition.

Non-Residential Attendance

Students who live nearby or arrange their own accommodation may inquire about non-residential participation. Availability and pricing may vary depending on venue arrangements and meal requirements; an individual quote will be confirmed before registration.

How to Apply & Prepare

Applications, introductory conversations, waivers, preparation information and payment arrangements will be announced before enrollment opens. Students progressing from Level I will be asked to provide their documented community practice and casework for review.
